

Dr Sian McGrath

Dr Sian McGrath has been with Aquamarine Power since its formation in 2005, initially as General Manager. Sian has a track record of raising public finance and start up technology business development. Prior to joining Aquamarine, she led a UN sponsored forestry network based in Indonesia to deliver recommended sector reforms to the Indonesian government. Sian has proven experience of securing marine renewables planning and consents. Her PhD analysed the socio-economic and environmental impacts of natural resource exploitation in Scotland. Sian co-chairs the Scottish Executive's Marine Energy Group and sits on the Forum for Renewable Energy Development in Scotland, chaired by Jim Mather, Scottish Minister for Energy.
